

Congress May Authorize Farm Price Support

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today he sees a good chance Congress will authorize the reduced farm price support minimums requested by President Eisenhower.

Benson said he was not discouraged by the hot reception he and the President's program got yesterday at a public hearing before the Senate Agriculture Committee. Some senators challenged Benson's sincerity and the accuracy of some of his statements.

Although Benson expressed optimism about prospects for the administration's new farm program, committee Chairman Ellender (D-La.) and Sen. Thyne (R-Minn.) predicted in separate interviews that Congress never will grant his request for authority to set price props on the basic crops and dairy products between 60 and 90 per cent of parity.

The present minimum is 75 per cent of parity, a legal standard for farm prices said by law to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs. The basic crops are cotton, wheat, corn, rice tobacco and peanuts.

Ellender said lower price support minimums haven't "the ghost of a chance" of winning congressional approval. "I can't for the life of me see how it is possible to improve the lot of the farmer by reducing his prices," Ellender said.

Thyne predicted "We'll never cut supports below 75 per cent."

Benson told newsmen he would concede that "in a campaign year, a political year," like this one he could not flatly predict passage of the full 14-point program, much of which is controversial.

He added: "I am confident that if we had a Republican Congress we'd get this program through."

At the worst Benson said, "I think Congress will pass a large Ellender ordered Benson to report for more questioning next Wednesday, with instructions to be prepared to be more specific on some points.

Main controversy at the day-long hearing surrounded two key points — the Benson-Eisenhower appeals for authority to reduce minimum price supports and to increase planting allotments for cotton, wheat, rice, peanuts and tobacco as much as 60 per cent above levels now provided, if the markets were available.

Ellender and some other senators contended that the two points just would not fit together, and that supports may be too low now. Some committee members accused Benson of being less than candid in some testimony, including his insistence that — although asking for the power to cut supports to 60 per cent of parity — "I don't contemplate 60 per cent of parity."

Benson went before the committee with a 24-page statement. Normally, it would have taken less than an hour to read a statement of that length. But it took him six hours because of repeated interruptions from various senators.

Sen. Symington (D-Mo.) accused the secretary of insincerity when Benson assured him he would be glad to do anything to help Missouri farmers. "Well, Moses, every time you strike the rock you hurt my people," Symington said.

Hand Caught, Gets Frostbitten

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Mrs. Doris Orr was wary of her refrigerator today. She put her hand in an automatic ice cube department. Some mechanism jammed and she couldn't get her hand free. Her husband worked valiantly to help her, then called police.

Two officers required 30 minutes to free Mrs. Orr. When they took her to a hospital where she was treated for frostbitten fingers.

Early Figure in Auto Making Dies

DETROIT (AP)—William C. Leland, who was widely known in the early days of the auto industry, died at his home here today. He was 84 years old.

Leland was the son of the famous automobile pioneer, Henry M. Leland. They were a father and son team in the industry. The Cadillac and Lincoln automobile firms which later were taken over by General Motors and the Ford Motor Co., respectively.

Turkey Jails Army Officers in Plot

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—Turkey's Defense Ministry has announced the arrest of nine army officers on charges of trying to involve the armed forces in a plot. The communique last night did not disclose the nature of the plot but indicated it was directed against the government.

Rumors have been circulating in Istanbul in the past two weeks of secret arrests of many army officers. The communique said these rumors were exaggerated and that the only persons arrested were three colonels, one of them retired; one lieutenant colonel, four majors and a captain. The Defense Ministry said they had confessed.

Calls for More Guts and Less Gobbledegook

WASHINGTON (AP)—A pioneer aircraft manufacturer today called for "more guts and less gobbledegook" to speed U.S. production of U.S. missiles and anti-missile missiles.

Donald W. Douglas Sr., chairman of the board of the Douglas Aircraft Corp., said only a small fraction of the necessary funds has been made available for work on the Zeus anti-missile project on which his firm is working with Bell Telephone Laboratories and Western Electric.

"Nearly two years ago we felt this weapon was sufficiently feasible to warrant a go-ahead," he told the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, "but so far only a small fraction of the necessary funds has been made available."

In the case of the 1,500-mile intermediate range ballistic missile Thor, Douglas said that even after successful test firings, "we waited from August to December for an order to increase production of this much-needed missile."

But Douglas testified that on the whole he could say "most unequivocally that I do not share the gloomy opinion of so many that the race for weapon supremacy has been lost forever and that we are permanently doomed to the role of a secondary power."

He expressed belief the armed services and industry have been doing a much better job of keeping pace with any potential enemy than the public realizes.

Douglas appeared with his son, Donald W. Douglas Jr., president of the company, and Robert Johnson, his assistant chief missiles engineer.

He said that in two years the Thor has been developed and successfully tested and the production line is now in operation to turn them out in any quantity desired.

"Furthermore," he said, "production can be accelerated to almost any degree which might be necessary."

As for the antimissile weapon designed to shoot down enemy missiles, he said, "all we need now is the go-ahead signal to bring it to the same status that we have brought the IRBM."

One of the most formidable obstacles to getting things done swiftly and efficiently, Douglas said, "is the time-consuming, agonizing process of waiting for official decisions."

Saying that failure to make early and firm decisions on the Zeus antimissile project was a conspicuous example, he said the solution does not lie "in putting committees on top of committees and ears on top of ears."

People who have authority must also have the courage and foresight to make the proper decisions at the right time," Douglas said, as he added:

"In other words, what we need is more guts and less gobbledegook."

Douglas' call for speedier firm decisions paralleled a comment by Sen. Cotton (R-NH), who said in a statement, "There are so many layers of decision-making officials and boards in the armed services that the Russians can put a program into action while we are conferring about it."

Plane With 10 Aboard Hunted

HONOLULU (AP)—Aircraft and ships crisscrossed the path of Typhoon Opheelia again today, hunting a U. S. weather reconnaissance plane that vanished Tuesday night with 10 crewmen. The missing plane, a B-50 bomber adapted for weather survey, last reported at 11:30 p.m. Tuesday when it was some 800 miles north of Guam, heading into the typhoon's center. The center contained winds reported in excess of 140 miles per hour. At Yokosuka, Japan, yesterday the Navy reported that listening stations at Guam, Hawaii, Anchorage and Adak picked up faint distress signals in the general area of the plane's disappearance.

SAFETY SEEKERS—Taking the old injunction to go west at face value, William Keenan, right, took his family and made the move to the wide open spaces some 12 years ago. Keenan cast a wary eye at the atom bomb and headed for the hills—the first displaced person of World War III. The family settled in the tiny community of De Borgia, Mont., about 90 miles from Missoula, and Keenan became proprietor of the Atom Haven cafe. The cafe now serves as De Borgia's post office, the town's meeting place and home for the Keenans. Left to right are daughter, Barbara, 20, with her husband, Dave Parker; Mrs. Keenan; daughter, Constance, 11, in front; daughter Ruth, 18, and Keenan.

Daffodil Club Makes Pancakes Pay Off for Civic Projects

By MARY ANITA LASETER

If the Daffodil Garden Club had a motto for the purpose of its annual Pancake Supper, it might be: "Children should be seen and heard."

Their problems solved "by act and word."

These ladies discuss children's problems—from the cradle to the crutch box. Then, what is more important, they set about to find a solution to them.

There is a great interest in many phases of children's work for the mothers in the club have 48 children among them. These youngsters range in age from three months to 18 years.

In 1955 the money derived from the Pancake Supper was used to furnish a room in the maternity wing of the county hospital. For the past two years the funds have been used as they were needed for equipment in the Exceptional Children's Class at Paisley School.

Next Friday (Jan. 24) the Daffodil Garden Club will have its fourth annual Pancake Supper in the cafeteria of Hope High School with the proceeds going to the Youth Center Fund of the Hope Lions Club.

There are 10 active members and two associate members of the Daffodil Garden Club which was organized in March, 1949, became affiliated with the state federation in June of that year and has been a member of the Hope Federation of Garden Clubs since September, 1949.

The group sponsors a Junior Garden Club at Paisley School for the fourth and fifth grade students. Adult advisors are Mrs. Harold Brenns, Mrs. E. F. Young Jr., and Mrs. Lex Helms Jr.

Placing flowers in the planter boxes in front of Jones Field House will be a project of this club in the spring. The immediate work of this active group is to help in the building of the remodeling of the Hope Youth Center.

"You can help the youth of this community and at the same time help yourself to delicious pancakes, sausage, coffee or milk," said club president, Mrs. George Frazier.

Supper will be served from 5:30 until 8 p. m. The price is 35c for children and 75c for adults.

Man Rescues Two From Burning Home

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP)—A father rescued two small children from a burning farm home near Olyphant, about 11 miles southwest of Newport today. No one was injured, but the six-room frame house was destroyed. Jess Blevins Jr. and his wife were milking cows some distance from the house when they heard the children scream. When they looked toward the house, they saw it was on fire. Blevins ran to the house and dashed inside. He carried a daughter, Walkala, 5, and a son, Rodney, 1, to safety. An older son, Danny, 7, already had caught a bus for school. Blevins also drove a light truck parked near the house to safety. The flames spread to clothing on a nearby line and destroyed it. Origin of the fire was not determined.

Seeks Emergency Aid for Farmers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Gallegos (D-Ark.) yesterday summoned congressman from 11 rain and flood-stricken states to an emergency meeting to launch a drive to help distressed farmers obtain some type of long range credit.

The group decided to call Farmers' Home Administration officials to a hearing today to try to throw out difficulties in the present emergency loan program.

The conferees maintained yesterday that the FHA has not provided loans needed by farmers suffering heavy crop losses because of adverse weather.

Language Use as Weapon by Soviets

WASHINGTON (AP)—The head of the U. S. Information Agency said today the English language is so potent a weapon in the East-West propaganda war that the Soviet Union is using it to peddle Marxist doctrine.

George V. Allen, USIA director, said that because of the great interest in other countries his agency is planning to increase its English language broadcasts and to expand its classes abroad in that language.

In a speech prepared for the Washington chapter of the American Society for Public Administration, Allen said he recently had an astonishing report that Soviet officials in the Middle East have found interest in English so great that they themselves have begun to teach English to Egyptians and other Arabs.

"They interlard a good deal of Marxism along with the grammar, of course," he said.

Allen said some USIA posts have had the novel experience of being approached through third parties with requests for help in setting up English language programs which the Soviet Union is sponsoring.

He said a truckload of USIA books was blacked with considerable evidence later that the books were being used in one of these programs.

Negro Member of Kentucky House

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—The Rev. F. S. Anderson of Louisville is the first Negro in history to sit as chairman of a standing committee in the Kentucky House of Representatives.

Anderson, fourth Negro to serve in the General Assembly, heads the Committee on Suffrage, Elections and Constitutional Amendments.

Gov. A. B. Chandler said he was greatly pleased with the appointment. "He is a fine man and I think this illustrates the progress we are making in Kentucky."

U. S. Ahead of Russia in Air Power

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Gen. Otto P. Weyland, commander of the Tactical Air Command, says the United States is "definitely ahead of Russia in overall air power."

Weyland said the Russians may be ahead in "several phases of their missile program," but he said he is certain they have no long range missile in operational use.

"Getting a satellite up there is one thing but giving the powerful rocket that launched it an effective guidance system is another," Weyland said. He said the U. S. is well ahead of Russia in nuclear weapons development and has an offensive weapons system which will remain effective for the next few years.

Weyland spoke last night at a dinner sponsored by the Houston Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Navy Working on Deadly New Weapon

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy disclosed today it is working on a deadly replacement for one of two torpedoes described only this week as the "new and latest" among its anti-submarine weapons.

Confronted by reports of growing Russian undersea might, the Navy has been pushing development of a new family of antisub devices featuring better guidance, speed and range.

The naval ordnance plant at Forest Park, Ill., is taking the lead in this work, particularly in developing a replacement for the Mark 32 acoustichoming torpedo which has the capability of being released from a surface vessel without complex and bulky launching gear.

The Navy said a sufficient number of Mark 32s have been produced for training and combat use and it is no longer in production.

Details of the Mark 32 were reported Wednesday in the same Navy release that described another weapon, the Mark 43 torpedo, as "a submersible guided missile," capable of searching to great depths for enemy targets.

The Mark 43 torpedo, which can be launched from aircraft as well as surface vessels, is still in production. Both the Mark 32 and Mark 43 are already included in fleet armaments.

Sailors Tell of Cruelty of Marine

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP)—Eleven sailors testified today that they were mistreated by Sgt. Adrian A. McLane, former Marine brig guard on trial for cruelty to prisoners.

McLane's trial before a general court-martial is expected to end tomorrow after the husky 6-footer tells his version of what happened at the Sasebo, Japan, naval brig.

Fireman Gordon L. Bell, 19, of Flint, Mich., said that McLane once told him to lick up pepper and coffee spilled on the floor. Bell said that as he did so the sergeant kicked him and struck him on the head and neck with a shower shoe.

Navy Fireman Paul E. Basom, 23, Chicago, said McLane ordered him to "have a bowel movement" in the brig compound, struck him in the mouth and asked obscene questions about Basom's wife.

Eight Marines have been convicted and six acquitted on charges of mistreating prisoners at Sasebo, but four convictions have been reversed by higher Navy officials. McLane's trial is the final one growing out of charges by Sasebo prisoners.

Governor Starts Off Big Freeway

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Gov. George D. Clyde manned the bulldozer instead of the usual shovel at a ground-breaking ceremonies that launched preliminary work on a freeway system here.

Clyde, who took some advance lessons in bulldozer operation, just to be on the safe side, was asked to knock down the wall of a building being torn down to make way for the freeway.

On his first try, he barely missed a parked car. But after the car was quickly moved, he performed the job with dispatch then carefully climbed down as onlookers applauded.

ALC Holds Closed Door Conference

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Legislative Council held a session behind closed doors today. Reporters speculated the council might be discussing an investigation of the integration situation, including the Central High School controversy, which a council committee has been making.

Rep. Pau Van Daisein of Perry County, chairman of the committee, said his group would begin open hearings "in about a month."

The closed meeting today started after a brief open session had been held.

Ike's Handling of L. R. Crisis Called Flopnik

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Abernethy (D-Miss.) today called President Eisenhower's handling of the Little Rock school crisis a "flopnik" and said that was the reason for absence of an mention of civil rights in the president's state of the union message.

Abernethy said that a year ago the President "heralded the conduct of Southern whites and demanded that Congress take action against them."

This year has brought a great contrast, Abernethy said in a report to constituents. He added: "Northern congressmen actually bear the appearance of being ashamed of their previous conduct. And so does Ike. There is some mouthing about a stronger civil rights bill, but it gets no attention."

Because of the civil rights bill of last year, Abernethy said, the President now has lost the support of Southerners who in past years aided his program. As a result, he said, the president must now depend on Old Guard Republicans "who never give him more than spasmodic support."

Abernethy said the President's failure to mention civil rights in his state of the union message was "a patent admission that he had gotten on Little Rock."

He said the President's action also failed to win over the Negro vote in the North despite a "howl" campaign in the Negro press "with the argument that Republicans ordered the occupation of Little Rock and if elected 'will do it again.'"

"So," concluded Abernethy, "it is no surprise that Eisenhower completely ignored the pressure minorities in his speech to Congress. He probably wishes he had never heard of Little Rock or civil rights."

Says Scheme to Mix Races Has Stalled

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A Capital Citizens Council meeting here was told last night by segregationist leader Roy W. Harris of Augusta, Ga., that a "scheme" to mix races in the South has stalled by developments in the Little Rock integration crisis.

Harris also estimated that fewer than 100 Negro children had been admitted to previously all white schools in the South during the past year—the lowest number since the U. S. Supreme Court's desegregation ruling in 1954.

He was the main speaker on a program that included talks by two other segregationist leaders—Robert B. Patterson of Indianapolis, Miss., secretary of the Citizens Councils of America, and John U. Barry of New Orleans, chairman of the Federation for Constitutional Government.

Harris labeled every white expansion of integration a "star-spangled hypocrite" and added, "I say that to these preachers."

He lauded Gov. Orval Faubus for his stand in the Little Rock integration dispute and said he would vote for Faubus as president of the U. S.

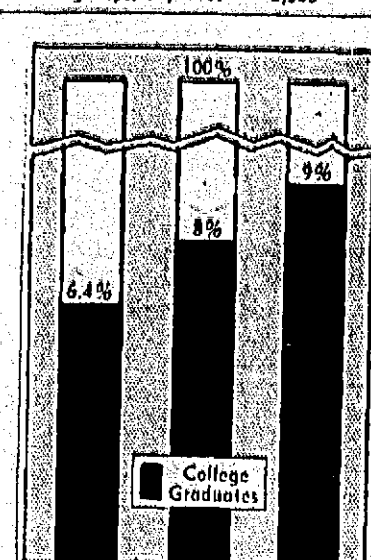

Referring to a visit he and Georgia Gov. Marvin Griffin made to Little Rock last August, Harris said:

"I told Gov. Griffin, he (Faubus) must be on our side when he allowed himself to be photographed with us, because I knew that picture would cost him the vote of every Negro and Liberal in Arkansas."

Ex-Sheriff of Woodruff Dies

SEARCY, Ark. (AP)—Edwin Talmadge Ramsey, 71, of Augusta, who served as Woodruff County sheriff from 1934 through 1942 and formerly was mayor of Augusta, died in a hospital here yesterday. Survivors include the widow, two brothers and five sisters.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at Searcy.

EDUCATIONAL LEVEL UP—Figures recently released by the Census Bureau survey show that the educational standard of the American worker continued to advance during the past five years. At the time of the survey, last March, the average worker had finished 12 years of school, compared with 11 years in 1952 and nine years in 1940. The percentage of college graduates (see Newschart), among workers aged 18 to 64, reached a new high.

WASHINGTON (AP)—House passage next week was forecast today for a measure to let the government go deeper in debt for missiles and other defense needs.

House Likely to Okay Debt Increase

Secretary of the Treasury Anderson goes before the House Ways and Means Committee to support the administration's request for a temporary rise from 265 to 280 billion dollars in the present legal limit on the national debt. The change would be effective until July 1, 1959.

Anderson had asked the increase by letter three days ago, saying he needs "sufficient flexibility that will allow us the capacity to do a good job as we call in the management of the debt."

House leaders, anticipating no concerted opposition, already have scheduled debt increase legislation for a vote Tuesday.

The increase would permit new government borrowing to finance maturing obligations before the bulk of tax receipts flow in during the next several months.

In an earlier appearance before the Ways and Means Committee, Anderson "regretfully" ruled out general tax reduction under present conditions. But he clearly left the way open for a tax cut in the future if the economy fails to make an expected rebound and requires stimulation.

The government's debt now exceeds 271 billion dollars, less than a billion below the present ceiling. The all-time high was about $280, 800,000,000, reached in December 1955 when the legal limit was temporarily 281 billion.

Prior to the war in 1941 the debt was around 40 billion dollars. By the end of the war it had risen to around 270 billion.

The lowest postwar level was reached in 1947-48, when it dropped to 252 billion dollars due chiefly to wartime tax surpluses.

Mrs. Ida Blackmon, Aged 76, Dies at McCaskill

Mrs. Ida Blackmon, aged 76, died at McCaskill Friday morning at the home of a daughter, Mrs. A. L. Ross. She had been a resident of Hempstead County for 25 years and a native of Alabama. She was a member of Primitive Baptist Church.

Survived by 4 sons, Jewel Blackmon of Wichita, Kansas; Tammus Blackmon of Camden, Ark.; Curtis Blackmon of Wichita Falls, Texas; Corvin Blackmon of Ft. Worth, Texas.

Two daughters, Mrs. Iva Rhodes and Mrs. A. L. Ross of McCaskill. One brother, Tom Johnson of Los Angeles, Calif., one sister, Mrs. Cleve Smith of Cheyenne, Okla., grandchildren and 13 great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Sunday at Friendship Church at McCaskill. The minister will be Rev. Spears of El Dorado. Burial will be in county Line Cemetery near Nashville by Luther Funeral Home of Nashville.

Rich Iowa Woman Dies in Paris

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Word was received here that a Des Moines-born countess, Beulah Hubbell Wachtmeister, 83, last surviving member of a family called the richest in Iowa history, died yesterday in Paris, France. She was the widow of Count Axel Carl Wachtmeister, a Swedish nobleman who died in Paris in 1935.

Talks Between Russia and Poland Today

By COLIN FROST

WARSAW (AP)—The renewed talks between Soviet Communist Party Boss Nikita Khrushchev and Polish Chief Wladyslaw Gomulka, appeared today to have ranged over world and Communist-bloc problems in a friendly spirit.

This was the sum of official and unofficial Communist reports on the recent meeting. Western observers found little reason to dispute it.

Confirming recent rumors here, Moscow radio issued a 63-word announcement last night saying Gomulka and Polish Premier Jozef Cyrankiewicz, invited Khrushchev to visit Poland while he vacationed in Russia near the border.

One likely subject for the meeting, reportedly held just before or during last weekend, would be the so-called "Rumanek Plan" to ban nuclear weapons from Poland, Czechoslovakia and East and West Germany. The Soviets have suggested including Scandinavia, Italy and Albania.

The plan for an atom-free zone, first advanced at the U.N. by Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki, has drawn favorable comment in Western Europe to a degree which surprised the Poles. Khrushchev may have discussed the plan with an eye toward putting it on the agenda for future East-West summit talks.

Another subject might have been further Soviet aid to Poland. Gomulka probably would report on the progress of aid negotiations in Washington. If those talks should break down, Poland would need to shop for grain and cotton in the Soviet Union.

The meeting took place in a hunting lodge at Beaulieu, Poland's biggest resort. Khrushchev was the only Soviet participant named officially, but Premier Cyrankiewicz also was rumored to have attended. There was no confirmation for this, however.

Khrushchev and Gomulka have held frequent meetings since the Soviet leaders last visit to Poland in October, 1955. But conditions were vastly different then.

Gomulka had just taken over the Polish Communist party and was aiming at looser ties with Moscow. Khrushchev was clearly angry, and Soviet troops moved ominously throughout Poland.

But since then the two Communist bosses appear to have resolved their differences. Even though Gomulka believes each nation should work out its own plan for complete socialism, he was one of the 69 signers of last November's Communist unity manifesto in Moscow.

Aluminum Co. to Lay Off Workers

ALCOA, Tenn. (AP)—The Aluminum Co. of America announced today that on Jan. 30 it will close three of its 12 pollines now being operated at the smelting works here.

C. H. Moore, works manager, said this production cutback would result in the layoff of approximately 400 employees and would affect virtually all departments.

He said that existing high inventory of aluminum, coupled with currently a reduced demand, prompted the cutback. Moore said production in the idle facilities could be resumed quickly when an upturn in business becomes apparent.

Earlier this week ALCOA announced a reduction in work force in its

Treasury Is Low, Congress Is Told

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Anderson told Congress today that distressingly low cash balances in the Treasury necessitate the five billion dollar increase in the legal debt limit asked by the administration.

He said the cash position now is so tight that next month treasury balances in commercial banks may get down to 250 million dollars, or less than an average day's disbursements.

Appearing before the House Ways and Means Committee, Anderson said the request for a hike in the debt limit from 270 to 280 billion dollars until June 30, 1959, was based also on the need for more flexibility in managing debt obligations.

"Even with a balanced budget there will still be large seasonal fluctuations in receipts which make operations under the 275-billion-dollar limitation most difficult," he said.

The committee is expected to approve legislation for the higher debt ceiling. Action may come next week and that would send the question on to the Senate.

Anderson told the House members he hopes to get more of the government's debt into long-term obligations. In recent years, much of the debt financing has been through short-term notes and certificates rather than long-term bonds.

Anderson noted that the Treasury must meet more than 55 billion dollars of Treasury bills coming due within the next 90 days, and more than 50 billion in all forms of obligations maturing in the calendar year 1958.

The higher debt limit, he said, will help the Treasury take advantage of opportunities in the period ahead for long-term financing.

Prescott News

"You feel then that the economy can come back without the added stimulus of tax reduction?"
Anderson: "That is my current judgment."

In his formal recommendation, Anderson specifically called for continuation of the present 52 percent maximum income tax on corporate profits and another year's operation of present excise tax rates on liquor, cigarettes and automobiles.

These rates, first imposed as temporary wartime levies during World War II, were revived during the Korean War and have been continued since. Without congressional action, they would be automatically reduced July 1.

Anderson made no mention of individual income tax rates in a prepared statement. This seemed a clear indication the administration had no thought of tax cuts in this area.

"I regret that a continuation of existing rates has to be my first recommendation to you on tax matters, because I am anxious for tax reductions of various sorts, as I know you are, and as the people of the country are," Anderson said.

"But under the conditions as they are foreseen at present, such tax reductions do not seem prudent."

"If present rates are continued, and if business activity resumes its upward growth during the year, as I believe it will, we estimate a small surplus for the fiscal year 1959."

While ruling out general tax reduction, Anderson said he was glad to recommend changes that would give small business important relief to the revenue loss involved.

Leaves Door Open for Tax Reduction

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Anderson today left the door open for a possible tax reduction if other measures fail to get the U.S. economy moving upward.

"I do not believe the balance is now on the side of reducing taxes," Anderson said, but added that he could conceive of situations in which there could be consideration of a tax cut.

His opinion, Anderson said, is that the nation now has the basic ingredients for an early economic readjustment and a resurgence of business growth.

But if economic expectations should prove to be in error, he said, then there should be considered whatever measures are necessary to stimulate business activity.

Anderson was before the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee and gave his views under questioning.

He had come before the group primarily to recommend continuation of present tax rates with the exception of some relief for small businessmen. He had a prepared statement in which he said any general tax reductions do not seem prudent at this time.

In the course of questioning, Anderson repeatedly voiced belief that business will right itself.

But he told the committee that he did not want to be inflexible in ruling out tax cuts, and if the circumstances warranted he would certainly be willing to take some tax action.

Chairman Mills (D-Ark) asked:

Governor in Defense of Guard Action

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas says the Supreme Court's school desegregation decision is not the law of the land — "it's the law of the case."

"There has been no law passed by Congress on the integration matter," the governor told a Phoenix Press Club forum.

He said President Eisenhower had no authority to send federal troops to Little Rock's Central High School to enforce integration.

"As a matter of fact, it was against the law, but who is going to arrest the President?"

The governor said he would use National Guard troops again to prevent integration if the occasion should arise.

"You cannot go against the will of the majority," he added, "and you must head off trouble and damage to property and possible loss of life."

The majority of Little Rock's residents opposed school integration, Faubus said. Therefore he tried to prevent integration of Negro students at Central High. He said his actions were based on his "faith in Jeffersonian-Lincolnan democracy."

"It's contrary to democratic principles to impose the will of a minority upon a majority," he declared.

Integration was accomplished peacefully in other Arkansas communities, Faubus noted, because the majority accepted it. Arkansas led the South in making progress in race relations," he said.

(At Little Rock, the Arkansas Democrat said Faubus told it by telephone from Phoenix that he actually said he would use National Guard troops again to preserve the peace if necessary.

"While in some peoples minds that might amount to the same thing as using troops to block integration, it isn't mine," the newspaper quoted the governor as saying.

Faubus also told the Democrat: ("I didn't say anything I haven't said before.")

Miss Churchill Is Fined for Drunkenness

MALIBU, Calif. (AP)—Actress Sarah Churchill, head high and fighting to hold back the tears, pleaded guilty to a drunk charge, but explained: "I was more ill than drunk."

The 44-year-old actress, daughter of Britain's Sir Winston Churchill, was fined $50 yesterday in Malibu Justice Court.

Her gloved hands gripped the back of a chair as she faced Judge Charles H. Woodmansee and answered, "I plead guilty to the charge." Given permission to make a statement, she continued: "I was more ill than drunk. I was alone in the beach house where I had gone to learn my lines for a television show."

"I have been under some strain these last months. I fully realize that anyone might have misunderstood the situation."

"I deeply regret any inconvenience I may have caused. The pain to myself and those I love is unbearable."

Judge Woodmansee said her attitude was commendable, but added: "You are the daughter of the world's greatest living statesman, but we must place the case in its proper perspective."

He said that he would treat her as anyone else who came before him on the same charge. He then fined her $50 on 10 days in jail.

CAPITOL'S SOUP FEUD FOR THOUGHT—Bean soup has been causing pots full of controversy since 1907, when the U.S. Senate restaurant started serving the delicacy, previously sacred to the House kitchens. House members have enjoyed bean soup daily since 1904. The squabble has flared up anew with the re-convening of the 85th Congress. Chief Senate Chef Ross Destito admits House priority with the soup, but claims the Senate recipe is "naturally" the best. House Chef Ernest Zahm counters that his recipe preserves the soup in its classic state, but refuses to venture an opinion on which soup is best. "I don't eat it myself," he says. "I just cook it."

Trusted products are sound investments

The brand names you have selected are sound investments because you know these products measure up to a specified standard of performance and are of known quality of construction and materials.

In advertising, the Audit Bureau of Circulations® provides a trusted standard of value for newspaper circulations. This newspaper holds membership in A.B.C. so you may have the FACTS about the circulation of your sales messages when you advertise with us.

With this assurance, you can be confident that placing your sales message in the advertising columns of our paper is a sound business investment. Ask us for a copy of our latest A.B.C. report.

This newspaper is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations, a nonpartisan association of publishers, advertisers, and advertising agencies. Our circulation is audited by experienced A.B.C. circulation auditors. Our A.B.C. report shows how much circulation we have, where it goes, how it is used, and other facts that tell advertisers what they get for their money when they use this paper.

JAM SESSION—There's almost too much of a good thing at Cypress Gardens, Fla., where water skiers are so numerous that traffic lights may have to be installed. These aquanauts solve the problem by keeping strictly in line. Very neat one.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

EXCEPT THE LORD BUILD THE HOUSE THEY LABOR IN VAIN THAT BUILD IT

THIS SEAT RESERVED

Was this pew provided for you? The empty seat means someone is missing food and fellowship. Is it someone whom you might have invited to church? Without food and fellowship we become skeletons and hermits. An empty pew means a starving soul. Jesus doesn't like empty pews. He knows the tragedy of starving souls. The Bible says for us to attend church, Hebrews 10:25. This seat is reserved for you. Blessed are they who hunger after righteousness, for they shall be filled, Matt. 5:6.

This Page Is Dedicated to the Building of a More Spiritual and a Greater Church-going Hempstead County. It is Paid for by Firms Who Want, as Their Only Return to See More People Going to Church.
